Stowe's Green Mountain Inn Unveils a High Tech Conference Room

Stowe, VT—August 10, 2007— One of Vermont's most historic hotels—the Green Mountain Inn—now offers a high tech meeting experience in the midst of the Green Mountains and a quaint village setting. A private entrance to the Village Room in the historic part of the Inn, dating back to 1833, leads visitors into a meeting or event space that is as inspirational as it is functional. The newly renovated Village Room offers wireless internet, large screen TVs, conference calling, surround sound systems, and electronic wall mounted screens.

The modern amenities of the Village Room blend well into the classic traditional inn backdrop. New French doors open to a balcony which offers a picturesque view of the Inn's grounds. Beautiful woodwork, high ceilings with architectural detail, exposed beams, and wainscoting are accented by elegant brass chandeliers and wall sconces. A full bar is planned and food service is currently offered from the Inn's acclaimed Whip Bar & Grill restaurant. Area businesses are already taking advantage of the newly designed space.

"The new conference room is comfortable, bright and airy," said Linda Goodman from SUSS MicroTec. "The space is very attractive, and the Inn offers the best breakfast buffet in the area in terms of variety, quality and presentation."

The renovated Village Room is ideal for business meetings or small conferences as it holds 85 people in a theatre style set up, 40 in a classroom style, and 32 for boardroom seating. In addition, the flexibility of the room and the special attention to detail provided by the Inn's Event Sales Manager, Andrea Belforti, the Village Room can also accommodate a variety of special events including cocktail parties (capacity of 120) or private dinner parties (capacity of 100).

The Green Mountain Inn, originally built in 1833, began as a coaching inn for 19th-century travelers located in the heart of Stowe village. Stowe's original inn retains much of its antique charm offering 104 rooms, suites and apartments. Guests enjoy two acclaimed restaurants, the Whip Bar & Grill and the Main Street Dining Room, specialty shops, a year-round heated outdoor pool, afternoon tea and cookies, health club facility, massage services and much more.
